Claim Objections

Claims 4 and 5 are objected to because it discloses a claim in terms of a formula for which there is no antecedent basis insofar as claim 4 is an independent claim and the formula is not outlined elsewhere in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Kobayashi et al., U.S. Patent # 5106933. See columns 2 and 3

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Nagaoka et al., JP 7-3164. See the enclosed abstract.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kobayashi et al., U.S. Patent # 5106933 in view of Larson, U.S. Patent # 5,424,357. Larson discloses a composition that mirrors that of Kobayashi in many respects containing an alkyl orthosilicate instead of one of the three alkoxysilane compounds taught by the latter. Larson states that an organotitanium compound of the type claimed by Applicant helps establish cohesive bonding between the rubber and an organic polymer (paragraph bridging columns 6 and 7). Since the objective of Kobayashi's invention is to formulate a silicone rubber composition exhibiting bonding to organic polymer materials, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill to add a titanium ester as suggested by Larson.

Claims 1-3 remain allowable for the reasons cited previously.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
